    <h2>KOREA</h2>

    Hanbok is the traditional dress of Korea, representing grace, vibrant colors, and historical pride. While modern Koreans wear Western-style clothing daily, hanbok is still worn on cultural festivals and important ceremonies.
```

Features:

- Composed of a jeogori (a short jacket with long sleeves) and chima (a long, pleated skirt) for women.
- Often made from silk or cotton and decorated with beautiful patterns.
- Characterized by simple lines and vibrant colors, each color symbolizing different meanings in Korean culture.

Cultural Significance:

Hanbok is traditionally worn on major holidays like Chuseok (Korean Thanksgiving) and Seollal (Lunar New Year). It is also used for weddings and milestone birthdays, emphasizing Korea's cultural pride

CONCLUSION

Traditional clothing serves as a bridge between the past and the present, keeping cultural heritage alive. Whether it's the elegance of the Kimono, the grace of the Saree, or the vibrant beauty of the Hanbok, these outfits tell stories of history, craftsmanship, and identity. Though modern fashion has evolved, these traditional dresses remain cherished symbols of national pride and heritage.
